FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE

Friday, 8th April, 2010

DozeniPad.com is the first site that ranks apps, dev sites, and more, using an advanced algorithm, so users can quickly locate the iPad site for which they are searching.

DozeniPad.com - the new online iPad index that offers unbiased commentary and criticism of popular iPad websites.

Apple® has announced that it sold over 300,000 iPads in the US as of midnight Saturday, April 3. Additionally, iPad users downloaded over one million apps from Apple's App Store and over 250,000 ebooks from its iBookstore during the first day. The impact of the iPad on the internet can already be seen with the emergence of sites dealing with all things iPad.

The question now becomes, how does we parse through the sites in order to find the best out there? Raw data is collected and evaluated with our unique ARS method, and is presented graphically for easy comparison. We evaluate everything from support and customer service to popularity and action, and with check-ups made daily, Dozen Media provides the most reliable review sites on the net.
